

Public Notices Belong in Newspapers, Where People Will See Them.

Cartoon courtesy of The Franklin Times, Louisburg, N.C.

Right now, government officials and those involved in many important legal matters have to give notice in newspapers about their plans, such as building facilities you don't want near your house. But some politicians want to put public notices exclusively on government websites where few will see them.

Don't let officials hide what you need to know. Go to www.ohionews.org/public\_notices and download a brochure to get the facts about why public notices belong in newspapers. You can also search thousands of Ohio newspaper public notices at PublicNoticesOhio.com.